OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Thursday - 6 January 1977

3. (Internal Use Only - PLC) LIAISON Together with [redacted]

[redacted] Deputy Director of Security, and [redacted] Office of General Counsel, attended a meeting with Elliot Maxwell, Howard Leibengood, Mike Madigan and Mark Gitenstein, staff members of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, and discussed the proposed Agency changes to the latest Committee draft nondisclosure agreement. The staffers confirmed the position of the Committee that all reference to "intelligence sources and methods" be dropped from the paper. The Committee objects on the grounds that the term "intelligence sources and methods" is vague and too broad. They would agree to a compromise which would refer to the Director's authority to issue security regulations to protect such information. We told them we would present this to the Director and advise the Committee, hopefully tomorrow, of the Agency's decision.
